I want to tell you about the mind. Imagine that it is one of the vertices of a triangle. People don't quite understand what is good and what is bad in all of it. You know, the mind can be good and can be bad. Also there is an existing misconception among people who think that developing minds in society and material frequency is always good. That everything that you do with your mind without involving your soul is ok. But it is not. I want you to realize that there are two sides of the mind. Imagine that our minds, all our human minds are divided into two categories - educated mind and uneducated mind. Throughout the years, all this time I constantly mentioned in my books how I despise the uneducated mind.

Uneducated mind means impudence, sins, immorality, despondency, resentment, selfishness, judgment. Uneducated mind rules the person when left uncultivated. It is like an untamed horse, when an animal instinct dominates the person and makes him suffer. This kind of person can't control himself when he is tempted or provoked. Uneducated mind is an uncontrolled force. People with this type of mind have troubles, problems and struggles in their lives. There are very bad and dark consequences that follow it. And people are trying to cover up their uneducated minds. They are trying to justify their actions by saying that they feel like it or they just want to do something or are not able to do something. What do your "feel likes" have to do with it? This is your mind ruling you. You "feel like it" and tomorrow you are fired from your workplace or kicked out from the family. You just "feel like it", look at you. Who do you think you are, God Almighty? Feel like it..

The mind has two categories - educated and uneducated. When I was talking about a type of mind that interferes with your life, shuts down your heart, leads you to substantial problems and unfortunate circumstances, I was talking about a pathway to prison or death. This is what uneducated minds do. You must understand it. If you do not tame it but indulge it instead, it will start blowing out of proportion. Uneducated mind will push a person beyond the boundaries of normality and you will be wiped out. The system will eliminate you, this is how it works. Many people suffer because of that.

All men and women were little boys and girls, and had childhood. And all of you had this mind. And your parents loved you but sometimes loved you in the wrong way. Take a note of that. Some wise movies show situations when a father didn't give his child an inheritance because he loved him and cared about his safety. This is the right kind of love. However most of the time kids are upset with the parents who behave this way. And there are families that say that they would love their child despite anything, no matter what their children do. If a boy insults a girl at school, his mother still pities him. Those mothers who pity their kids and shower them with love when their kids misbehave and do bad things, cultivate a devil in their children. It happened because their uneducated mind has bloated. And it is a sin, it is a devil, a demon. Those kids become bad people when they grow up. Those untamed men and women behave badly, they yell and attack other people. They disrespect peers and higher-ups. They don't obey laws and commit crimes. You know why it happens? Not because they were insulted and abused when they were kids. Quite the opposite. It is because their mommies were soft on them and pitied them declaring that that is love. This is the wrong kind of love. Wrong upbringing.

Talking about the mind, please take notes and create two columns which you will fill in with the information I will give you. The information that I am giving here is very important. You need to make it a manual of sorts on how to use your mind. I will explain what a person is, what a mind, heart and Spirit is. What kind of Spirit there is and what kind of heart. You must understand all of that.

Here we have our mind. It is fabulous if you can turn it off and escape from it when it is all crooked and untamed and unknown. It is fine to shut it down and turn on the heart. But there are times and situations when you can't act without the mind. This is unavoidable. There are also cycles when it is mandatory to use the mind and turn off the heart. According to the rules of the dynamics (and dynamics is the movement from one point to another, from one angle to another) it is important to keep the perception sharp, not blurred. One must have the dynamic movement to be spiritually rich. That is why there are seasons, several of them in a year. That is why there are months, you see? Dynamic is a necessity otherwise people would go cuckoo and develop dementia and mental deficiency.

Many of you experienced an issue when it feels like everything is alright, you live by your heart and all is seemingly ok. Maybe your heart is well cultivated, let's say up to twenty five degrees and you are somehow self-realized in this regard.

But as soon as you turn it off and shift away from the angle of the heart to the angle of the mind, you get into the area of the nightmares. There is an unplowed field because your mind is only cultivated up to two percent. And that mind is uneducated, untamed. And you start to suffer and be miserable and misbehave. And you, same as I used to, may start to declare that the mind is bad, and this is all its fault. The mind is terrible and I turn it off and turn on my heart and think to myself, "Eww, I don't want this mind". But no! You don't want that mind when it is bad. When the mind is good, why would you despise it? When the mind is tamed and educated it is good. Good mind is your best friend, it is an amazing power.

It is essential to tame and cultivate your mind as much as possible and open your heart as much as possible too. Even if your heart is wide open but your mind is not cultivated, you won't get to the next level, which is higher and beyond your current situation. Of course your heart must be open so the light can go into it and yes, the Spirit must be present too. But it is also important that you have intellect and control everything. You must be well adapted in the society and have a strong good mind without sins. Your mind must be extremely intelligent and wise in order to translate the message of Spirit into the world. For example, imagine that you are very famous for your talent. You don't have intelligence, your mind is weak, uneducated but you have a lot of fans. And God wants to broadcast some information to someone through you. And not just to someone, but to humankind. So the Spirit enters the musician or celebrity and they can express it through their creativity of their choosing. But they can't explain and transcribe the idea and essence of the message with their mind and intelligence. So the Spirit enters a nerdy scientist whose mind is very developed, tamed and educated in terms of science and laws and various knowledge. When the Spirit descends on the scientist, he is able to transcribe this signal, this code into a text of a scientific article. However this scientist is not advanced in other areas of life so what the Spirit does is connects these two people and for example the musician adopts the scientific paper and shows it to his hundred million of fans. This is how it also works sometimes.

So you see, God has to find the ways to connect people. Because there is not a single person in the world that has it all - the cultivated mind and open heart all at once. Everyone has some limitations or lines in one of the extremes: either spiritual or social and material. Of course, it will be possible in the future that every person can be developed in all areas. But for now everyone is living in some extremes.

And certainly a superhuman, and everyone must become one, is a person that besides advanced sensitivity understands everything scientifically with the developed mind. I would never have believed ten years ago that my mind would be that advanced. At that time I was a very sensitive and creative person.

My heart was very open and developed and I was able, of course, to tell what is correct and what is not just by feeling. But to explain it scientifically.. I always assumed that some scientists would explain it to me if I simply demonstrated something to them. And now it turns out that I became a scientist. Those of you who read “Alternative History” know how the book ends. It ends with the scientific formulas explaining the essence of the philosopher’s stone. It is impossible to comprehend it without an advanced mind, without intelligence. You would need not just a heart, but also an intellect to see that formula in everything - in yourself, in another person, in every action, in everything around us.

Ok, going back to the topic of your untamed mind now.

Mind means an explanation, a logical structured understanding, a discipline. Mind means you remember the rules and despite your mood tomorrow, you still live by the rules.

When you communicate with people in society, it is not always the heart that is involved. You live on the chessboard, you deal with black squares (which are situations of the mind) and white squares (situations of the heart) everyday. Society is made this way for people to develop in life. And when you are dealing with the black squares, you can’t solve tasks just using the pure and beautiful frequency of that heart of yours. You need to use your mind. And your mind turns on and it happens automatically. Your brain turns on when you are on the black square of the chessboard and your heart turns on when you are on the white one.

So the mind turns on and you are not able to put two and two together. And here you are, upset and stressed. And you will think, “Oh, I went to the notary office and people were so and so, and I shut down and felt like rushing back home to meditate”. Of course it is great to return to your heart and not forget about it. It is great to have this dynamic. But you need to cultivate your mind for the situations when you need to use it. When your mind turns on you must use it and behave and be a well-mannered person, and not a psycho.

So the uneducated mind is a weak link in every single one of you. There is no way to avoid this step, folks. You can't advance further without it. It is the same as you would ask me now, “Aleksandr, maybe it is possible for me to go abroad without a passport?”. And I would say, “Nope, it is not possible. You may try of course, but you will get busted. You must have your passport at hand”. Same here. It is crucial to educate your mind, you see? There is no moving forward with a weak and crooked mind. No moving forward at all.

Now, what is an educated mind? Educated mind - it is when you are acting mindfully, and not led by your feelings like, “Wow, I can feel the energy, everything is so amazing, so voluminous”. This is understandable. But you must be able to explain and prove it with your intellect. What was it, why it happened, why at this time of the day and how long it lasted. Everything can be proven scientifically. It is science. There is no step further without intelligence, because everything is science. God and this box we live in is science. If you divide my books into categories, and take the category of the mind, then you will have books that explain mindfully, intellectually, all strange events that happen with creative people. People who live by the heart and myself. I logically explained it all.

“Frequencies” is a book that talks about it. I created the boundaries with my mind. And this is exactly what is needed. Because what is our mind? It is like when you have a whole bunch of rocks in your hands and think it is all the same rocks. But in fact there are rocks and bolts in the bunch. And you separate rocks from bolts, each to its own category. Or you divide these rocks into categories by color or size. This order is an intelligent mind. Everything must be in order and organized. There is no other way around.

In my book “Frequencies” everything is sorted out. For example, the person who lives by the heart is able to feel, but the person who lives by the mind is not. The person of the heart can feel that people are different and there are different layers of society like different worlds. Person is trying to explain it with the broken language but can't. That is why esoterism as a pseudoscience exists.

And what is next? Next, the person of the heart must use the mind when it turns on and remember and explain everything that a person experienced with his heart. One must take a piece of paper and write down that there is a frequency of the rock-stars or creative people, there is a frequency of entrepreneurs, there is a frequency of the fugitives and also a frequency of the well-mannered intellectuals. And he starts to understand it with a good mind, organizing and categorizing this information. Now one has an understanding with the mind. This is educating and taming one's mind. Developing a good mind.

I will list the qualities of the good mind and bad mind. And you should take notes, organize and separate everything into two columns - bad mind and good mind, educated and uneducated, tamed and untamed.

Next is "Attention Control". "Frequencies" is an understanding of the world that can be comprehended only by a person with an open heart. "Frequencies" is an explanation of this subject with the mind. The book seems to talk about spirituality but for the mind, because it is necessary to understand it with the intellect. And it shouldn't be like one day you have the inspiration and another day you don't. You must prove it with the brain when your mind is turned on. Of course when your heart is dominating you have inspiration and creativity. But later, when the heart is turned off and the mind is on, you must clearly understand how it happened and what it was. Next is "Attention Control". A person who is led by the mind hardly understands anything. He is blinkered and narrow-minded in all of his categories. And suddenly your heart turns on, and you begin to feel your attention. But since you don't have the intelligence plus you are on the frequency of the heart, you can feel it but you can't explain it not only to other people but even to yourself. And you are confused, drooling, blinking, not understanding what is happening with you. This kind of person is very sensitive and he thinks that it is a spirituality, but can't even express what he feels because his mind is weak and undeveloped.

When the frequency of the mind turns on, the person must be able to explain what he felt, and what attention is. He starts to understand with the mind, using his intelligence, that attention is something tangible. Attention is you and your attention is always connected to something. And the outcome of every event depends on where your attention is connected to.

So there are frequencies, which are also different worlds. All of these worlds have different vibrations. Each world has its own list of vibrations and elements. For example, the vibration number 572 in the world number 572 has certain styles of clothing and activities. That vibration has specific types of people, music, movies, and everything else. And if you surround yourself with the elements of that vibration, your attention will connect to that world. Your attention will transform. Your energy, your inner light will connect to that spectrum. And that spectrum has its own scenario of troubles and pleasant events. This is how the entire world is set up, folks.

I was trying to explain it when I was twenty years old. Back then people didn't know that it was possible to post text under the photos. People were embarrassed to do that back then. They just recently got to the point of doing it only because they are mimicking each other. People... I will write separately about them.

So there is the mind that I cultivated with my books. There are "Frequencies", and there is "Attention Control". And later I released "Have Not Charity", a book where I talked about an angry society, about a weak and untamed mind that tempts people. "Have Not Charity" is about the wicked mind that drags people to the graveyard. The mind rules people by the seven mortal sins. Also, there are seven virtues. The book is about seven dark qualities of the person and seven light qualities of the person. This book is about education and upbringing. Upbringing! Because people are out of their senses. People harass each other. Some rude person may insult a girl and that girl is someone's daughter or sister. Or some punk may ride a car with a roaring engine and wide open windows with loud music blasting from the inside. What kind of behavior is that? He might say that he acts this way because he feels like it. But all this nonsense is getting to an end. The era of ill-mannered behavior is ending.

It turns out that many people crossed the line of good and bad. You can see now how society has degraded. People have no conscience. They forgot about good virtues. They are behaving morally reprehensible, and do atrocities to each other. They think that they won't be punished for it. Many people sold their souls and bodies to the devil. I mentioned many times that the easiest thing to do in order to make billions and have the admiration of the crowds is to put yourself low and shamelessly entertain and deceive people. But I can't do that, my consciousness doesn't allow me. People are looking around and seeing that everyone is blatantly lying. So people start thinking that it is okay to do that.

People start to declare that they are grand and glorious. People start audaciously selling and upselling. So many cocky salespeople are around now. Liars, brazen sellers, and crooks. The entire internet is full of scammers. And they are not bad people. I know people. They are just lost. This is how society is set up. When a person sees that every other person is doing something, one starts doing it as well. There is no manual on right and wrong behavior and people don't know better. Also, what do people think? They think that if they are not stealing, not breaking the display windows, then they are not criminals. And when they write online that they are superhumans and start brazenly selling some crap with a greedy agenda, they think it is not a crime. And in fact, it is worse than any crime, because it darkens the soul.

I do believe that people will come to their senses. They will come to their senses. Things happen. I always say that a person can be good today and he may lose his senses tomorrow and insult you and me. It doesn't mean that he is a goner. Of course, you and I will not take the side that he chose. But we can wait till he comes to his senses, repents and comes back. I always do just that.

So there is an educated mind and uneducated mind. My books "Frequencies", "Attention Control", and "Have Not Charity" are about this topic. "Have Not Charity" is about seven sins and seven virtues. Later I released a book "Adam and Eve in Society". Fascinatingly, many people don't like these books. Because these books don't give the feeling of the outworldly cosmos. As I mentioned earlier, people are also divided into categories. Some people are only delighted about my book "Paradox" because there are no explanations and proofs, it is just a diary where I described all the miracles and paradoxes that happen to a person when he lives by the heart. And it is true. They are thrilled about that book because it nourishes the hearts. And when the heart is nourished, the inner spark doesn't die. It is great on one end that they are not becoming angry and materialistic creatures. However, people still have minds and they must be nourished too. Mind must be cultivated. "Frequencies", "Attention Control", "Have Not Charity", and "Adam and Eve in Society" are books for nourishing and educating the minds. Mind must be cultivated, folks. Everyone must do it. But you must understand the razor-sharp line between good mind and bad mind. Educating the mind doesn't mean buying Rolls-Royces and acting daringly. People don't know that line. Many think that if I mentioned that the frequency of material mind is good they start acting crudely and shamelessly. You know what they do? They start stalking me and digging for private information about my life. It is a behavior of an uneducated brain, it is a sin. They don't understand the line and are genuinely surprised that they got banned and that I call them demons. Because only demons behave this way. And they were saying, "But, Alexandr, you told us that having a mind is good". Yes, having a mind is good, but it should not be used for stalking people and bragging about material matters. People who act recklessly have a criminal and ill-mannered mind.

Please pay attention to this. It is very important. If you comprehend this information, then your heart will open wide and you will immerse deeper into the world of the heart. A lot of new knowledge will be revealed to you.

I will add to the topic what is the difference between an educated and uneducated mind. Having an uneducated mind means when people are shamelessly copying others. It is when people act unapologetically. Of course, one must be diligent. Being relentless is also good. But people forget about manners and morality and assume that brazen behavior is okay, especially if everyone around says that it is effective and helps to achieve goals. People are losing all their senses and stepping over each other. This is stupidity. One can be relentless but still remember the politeness. And you must understand how to be diligent and relentless but also be civil and mindful. For example, when a person wants to write me a letter, he can write it this way, "Hi, Alexandr, I am not sure which social media and which email you usually check, that is why I will send this letter to a couple of your addresses. I apologize for doing that. Please do not think of me as a deranged person, I am just trying to make sure someone on your team or yourself will get my letter. Again, I am sorry that I had to use this approach". And if he sends the same letter within a day to multiple social media channels - he is a sane person. But if a person would be doing it every day, just copy-pasting and sending, and writing to all my acquaintances as well asking them to pass an important message to me, and if he is doing it for weeks, what kind of person is that? He is an insane person and belongs to a mental facility. What else? That person is dangerous and wild. Where is the educated mind? I hope the difference is clear.

Having a well-educated mind means asking for permission and being an accurate and organized person. It also means to do everything in moderation. Having an educated brain means to wake up according to the schedule. It is when a person is punctual and responsible. When one promised to wake up at 9 AM, he did it. When one promises to start working at a certain time and he lives up to that statement. The most fascinating thing is that an educated mind is a spare version of you. The mind is also you, do you understand? It is a spare version of a creative and open-hearted person. When you are in a crisis, the other side of you, which is your mind, saves you. This is what having an educated mind means. Imagine, suddenly your heart is out of tune. Someone hurts your feelings and your heart shuts down and your mind turns on. And imagine the mind is well-educated and how do you act with the educated mind? You keep on doing what you were doing. Some situations may happen and someone may hurt your gentle feelings or you get upset about some personal matters, like all people do. Then it was awesome that there was a time when you had an inspiration and period of creativity. And suddenly the inspiration is gone. There is no spark and your mind is turned on. Maybe something terrible has happened. Something might throw you off the path and somehow deeply touch your heart. But you can't give up your work, your family, your goals. Despite all the pain in your soul. Do you understand? A well-educated, strong mind protects you.

Some people live their lives only by the feelings and when the feelings are gone they turn into demons. It is terrible. Imagine, when you are inspired, you think like this, "Oh, I am so righteous, I don't drink, I don't smoke, I don't curse, I keep up with a healthy diet, I exercise, and I am surrounded by good people". And suddenly, boom! Something happens and life has turned upside down. This is completely normal. The system works this way. You may feel used and treated the wrong way. All of us went through it. You may experience deception, you feel crushed and your heart is in pain. Your heart shuts down, and hurts like hell. That is when the mind turns on. And what do you do when your uneducated mind turns on? You dive deep into your vices right away, because you are hurt and you feel pain. You start drinking, smoking, and hanging out with wretched people. You start misbehaving. You stop taking care of yourself. And is it good for you? No, it is not! What you have to do is keep going. Something happens, some deceit or disaster, the mind turns on and you have an understanding reminding you that you must be above the situation. Don't lose a human in yourself, no matter what. No matter if you were deceived. Don't fall into the traps, don't commit crimes, be mindful. If someone spits on your face - don't fight back, because you may get convicted and go to jail. You must understand the rules of civility. You must be wise and rise above the situation.

If you have an educated mind, you stay strong on both feet, despite any provocations. Your mind is one of your legs. One leg is the heart, another leg is the mind. You just stay strong on both of your legs. You must become strong. This is our goal. What does the uneducated brain do? It gets offended, it messes up, it overthinks, it makes stuff up. It judges, it takes offense, it gets disappointed and misled. What does it mean to have an educated mind? The educated mind is a superpower! When your heart hurts and you feel down, you have strength to still move forward. When you have a goal of building something, you keep building. You build your life and keep going towards your goals. It is very important! You can't drop the tasks because you feel some shadows in your soul. This is real power, folks.

Every person must become a superhuman which means to be wise and spiritually developed. When one's heart is open wide and can turn on when needed. When the mind is fully developed and can turn on and off a thousand times a day when necessary. There is also Spirit, but we will talk about it later.

Having a primitive and weak mind means when one knows that smoking is bad for him, but he still lets himself smoke a cigarette when he feels down at the end of the week. And he thinks that he is safe and nothing bad will happen to him. A person thinks that God or the system will reach out to him right away and babysit him. Nope. Do you really think that smoking is not such a big deal? One thing follows another and the next step might be to cheat on someone and think it is okay too, because no one found out and nothing bad happened. A person is alive and healthy and everything seems okay. But please do understand that there is a paradox! You may think that you can do wrong things and not get punished. But the circumstances change right away. You are lowering the level of personal development and everything changes. You are getting closer to hell and hell is moving towards you.

There may be times when your heart shuts down and the inspiration is gone and there are no books by Alexandr Korol. Some dark thoughts and doubts may rise.

Okay, they may rise but you don't implement them. You must have control and power over the mind. You must continue to watch kind-hearted movies, listen to good music, take good care of yourself and behave mindfully. Be a good, polite person, and not offend anyone despite any circumstances. This is real power. Think about it - can God trust you with some serious task? If you are acting up just from a simple mood swing and doing some despicable things. Do you think it is possible to become well-known and respected if you act like this? This is a responsibility. You cannot become great and famous before you are ready for it. Having an uneducated mind means to be waiting for something and constantly expecting something. When the expectations are not met, the mind becomes more negative. A wicked mind judges a person and compares him to other people. A negative mind evaluates why others have something one doesn't have. When one doesn't embrace himself, his body, his appearance, his position at work, and his family. These are the qualities of a wicked and sinful mind. Moreover, when one starts listening and trusting the uneducated mind, the mind starts ruling the person. A person with a bad mind is always thinking about oneself and his own benefits. A person who has a wicked, sinful, and uneducated mind is eager to consume all the time because he is a coward. When a person is greedy and only cares about himself, he is a coward.

When a person walks with God, when his heart is wide open, he doesn't worry. He is responsible and carries on his assignments as planned. He is not letting go of control and he manages his activities. Also, this kind of person doesn't need much unlike people with wicked minds who always have a lot of hidden agendas.

Having an educated mind means to have discipline, responsibility, modesty, and consciousness. A person who has an educated mind does a lot of deeds for zero benefit for himself. He works hard and helps people unconditionally. He doesn't think about himself. Certainly one has to take care of his health and look well, but all in moderation.

Do you know how to recognize people with wicked minds? That type of person always has some personal agenda. Imagine sitting at the table and having a conversation with people. A person with an untamed mind would apply everything that he hears to himself. He is thinking, "This all is for me. I am the greatest”. This kind of thinking is a sin. It is not good. He behaves in a way that it is his last chance to meet people. He thinks that he is so smart to grasp anything that he can get and use for his personal benefit. He is trying to memorize everything, he is eager and hungry like a greedy predator. He doesn't care about others. The only thought he has is, “What is in it here for me?”. He thinks that he is the greatest and the only thought on his mind is, “Me, me, me”. This kind of reaction is a sin, this kind of thinking is wrong, sinful, and bad.

The focus of the attention of your heart and mind must be in your own world. You must also remember that there is someone above and keep your consciousness awake. You should maintain a healthy, simple and straight outlook on your current and future life. Let's say you are a doctor. You want people to be healthy and you are ready to invest your time and energy to study and be a good doctor. You also have your family or your parents and you must focus on them as well. Your attention must go to your profession and your family, not to a poisonous internet. I constantly talk about it in all my books. Everything must be in moderation and not exaggerated. There is a bad joke that is played on people in society. I mentioned before that people who don't have much money now are happy people. It is better to stand by and wait. It is better not to cross the line and become brazen, soulless, and sinful. People who have crossed the line and become pretentious coaches, dishonest entrepreneurs, and shameless bloggers, those who started making money on everything that moves by deceiving people, have something very scary coming their way. Very scary. It is no joke.

Also, people don't see how everything works, and how the world is set up. I am trying to transcribe and explain it. I always warned people about the dangers of mania of helping others and desire of taking care of others. I told people multiple times that they should not do that. You must take care of yourself. And if you take care of yourself, your close ones will be alright too. This is true. If some of your close ones, especially relatives are in trouble, and you are trying to go into that situation trying to help - you will be connected to that frequency. And now not only are they in trouble, you are in trouble too. Don't forget the laws of the frequencies and attention. When your heart is clean and your mind is educated, the Spirit will be present in you. Your focus must be away from the temptations, shopping, food, and social media. If your focus of attention is on your family, without evil judgment, but with a complete acceptance of their world, your close ones and your family will be a thousand times happier and healthier. Both physically and spiritually. It will be happening because the rays of your light will shine on them. They will be calmer, more kind and their nervous system will be restored.

People's minds are so broken and spoiled. I mentioned that the mind is good when I wrote books about frequencies. But people were forgetting that there is an educated mind and an uneducated mind. And politeness and a good upbringing are very important. I must honestly say that I didn't realize that there are so many uneducated people. Seriously. That is why I didn't even think about mentioning that it is important to remember politeness and civility when I was writing about the mind. Just because I have these qualities by default. And people didn't know how important it is to be polite and civil. Many became immoral idiots. So many people started to bully their relatives when they found out about the high and low frequencies. They started to pick on their poor relatives and say things like, "Eww, you have such a low-frequency life, I don't want to do anything with you". This information was given to people not to become mean and obnoxious and start insulting others by comparing and judging. All these years I observed that many shallow and pretentious hotshots read my books and started to abuse the information about the frequencies. They used the information to insult and abuse people as it is commonly accepted in society. This is not what I was giving the information for! It was not intended to be used for judging, bragging, and blowing one's pride out of proportion. I have banned all people who did it. They thought with their undeveloped minds that they could harass me and others on social media. Now I am out of all social media channels.

The main point I have is that there is still time. When I spoke about the frequencies in my books and videos, I said that a low frequency is an old frequency. I also said that high frequency is the most modern frequency. Also, I mentioned that there are countries of low frequencies (which are old) and high frequencies (which are new). Because all people live at different times. They all live on the planet Earth now but at different times. So switching between the frequencies is traveling in time. It is also a fact that the old times are vanishing and the new time is coming. I was worrying about people who were connected to the old time because when the old time will be gone, they will be gone too. People are just ordinary folks, they are not angels. They can't switch frequencies and travel between time. You must respect people. Respect them consciously, in moderation, within the boundaries of common sense. People nowadays have lost respect for one another. Some serious disaster must happen, then people will remember about consciousness, good behavior, and respect.

Statistically, when I publish a book in the Russian language, ninety-nine percent of people will be throwing stones at me. Not because the book is bad. Because it is good. If the book was bad, people would not care about it. But people have the mindset that provokes them to destroy anything that is good. People are angry, aggressive, and tense. However, they are guilty and not guilty. It is not entirely their fault. It is a very mean joke that society has played on people so they became angry and lost. Same as a dog that was kind and trusted her owners, but they beat and abused her so many times that she is scared now when anyone approaches her. And if someone approached her, she would bite because she only had a bad experience when someone approached her in the past. The same thing is happening with people now. They need to be saved.

But everything is known by comparison. So those people will appreciate the goodness and light when they have it in their lives.

You see how the mind can be bad. I elaborated on the topic of the frequencies, and many people used that information for their sinful benefits and amoral purposes, which is just terrible.

So we have frequencies and time. And some of your close ones are connected to a different time and it is normal and good. For example, I will go see my grandfather and grandmother. They are truly connected to a different time. But they are indeed people of a different time, so why try to change them? It is interesting to visit their time. It is time travel. It is so interesting to listen to elders and to accept their interests. It is cool to explore their time without judging. Also, think about it, how hard it must be for them. Their world is collapsing and their health is degrading because their time is ending. No one believes in their time, their kids and grandkids live in a different time. And there are not many people left in the time of your grandparents.

Most of the people of their age have died. They don't have much left. They are watching episodes of old comedy shows where most of the actors are gone already. Some watch the news, some read articles about farming, which is not very popular in modern times. The elders worry that when they die, their kids and grandkids will put their country houses into which they poured all their hearts and souls for sale. Because it is not convenient and not considered modern nowadays for most people, you know.

This is the way you must think. Please cultivate your mind and your intellect.

The crooked and wicked mind is deceiving and misleading people so much. I was observing people surrounding me. Some people disliked my country estate in Karelia and didn't want to come visit me there. People who are close to me and who I have known since childhood. People's minds are so deep in the vices that they can't understand and don't want to experience country style living. People think they are too grand for it. They would come to the country estate if there was a hi-tech house with huge panoramic windows. They would like to see a fleet of power ATV off-roaders there. People want to have content for Instagram. And if there is no content for Instagram, they are not interested in coming at all. My country property in Karelia is not fancy, and not posh. It is far from the houses people see on TikTok. And this is an indicator. If people's minds would be developed they would not perceive everything in such a shallow way. When a person has a developed mind, cultivated to 32 degrees, he would see the fifty acres of land and understand how much value is in it. He would think of how many mature trees there are and how much work is done to build the communications. All of that must be worth several houses with panoramic windows. Then an adult person would think, "This is a real deal, and a very valuable property". But the hotshot TikTokers don't understand that.

Some people can evaluate it this way, but people who have pure hearts and nobility will understand and appreciate that it is a simple wooden house and not something fashionable, and trendy. Sinful and narrow-minded people who have no confidence don't understand it. They don't appreciate a simple wooden house. People want posh and trendy. They are embarrassed to ride a simple domestic car. People are dependent on the opinions of others and afraid of judgment.

Many people have ridiculed me before. On one hand, they heard of my success and were drawn to me. But when they saw how simple I am they would disappear because they were afraid to get embarrassed by being friends with a simple, non-pretentious person.

Four actors in Russia refused to record my audiobook "Alternative History". They were embarrassed to do it. When a person loses himself as an artist so much, something really scary should happen for him to wake up. If nothing will help him to wake up, he will simply vanish very soon. I never lost my hope in people. But people have lost their senses, they are angry and presumptuous. There are so many books and movies about drugs, crimes, suicides and maniacs. "Alternative History" is just a novel about adventures but people were afraid to participate in making it into an audiobook.

If I would still be a regular person, it would probably upset me. But I was concerned for those people. I have hope that they will change their mind and go back to their senses. It is their decision and their choice and no one owes me anything. It is just so crystal clear when a person sells his soul to the devil. This is it. Everyone is so scared, and so shut down. I want people to be kind. I know how it works in theory but the scale of it is just so huge. Something must happen to shock people first. Then they must disconnect from the evil frequency and connect to the frequency of light. As if all the people have some virus. They are connected to an angry and tense frequency of society and that is why they behave like that. Their soul is not open but it is possible for them to be kind and enlightened. Only if they can disconnect from the evil and get connected to the light. They will have a different view of everything and a different focus of attention. People react that way because their hearts are shut down and their uneducated minds are turned on.

When people's minds are developed and cultivated, they see the beneficial perspective and value in doing good deeds and bringing awareness to humankind. Every person has a chance to educate the mind, open up the heart and experience a presence of Spirit. My personal journey and the experience of my entire life is shared through my books in order to bring awareness and wake up consciousness in people. The deep dive into the topics of the frequencies, attention, and unity of the heart, mind, and Spirit will help each and everyone to understand oneself and others as well as build harmonious and conscious lives, and make this world a better place for us and future generations.
